

FEDAI MONTHLY DISCUSSION –

SERIES 2023

TOPIC OF THE MONTH

“eMarketplace For Facilitating Trade Financing”

Date: 11th September 2023 - Time: 4.00 to 5.00 P.M

In order to share knowledge on various topics related to foreign exchange and International Trade, which are of contemporary importance, FEDAI has been organising online Monthly Discussion since February 2021. In these series we invite experts from relevant fields to discuss specific topic/subject, recent developments and share their views, opinions on the subject matter, followed by 10-15 minutes for Q n A.

Global trade to exceed USD 30 trillion, India aspiring to touch USD 2 trillion, USD 1 trillion each for Goods and Services, global trade by 2030. MSME sector which contributes 48% of total exports out of India, despite its significant role in socioeconomic development, faces challenges related to limited access to finance and working capital. Receivable Exchange of India (RXIL) is one such entity that has been doing a commendable job in this field facilitating easy access to credit to MSMEs by helping them receive their payments with zero delays, empowering small businesses by accelerating liquidation of their receivables offering innovative platform TReDS for buyers, sellers and financiers to collaborate seamlessly. After great success of TReDS, RXIL has now launched ITFS platform that is going to play an important role in arranging credit for exporters and importers from global institutions through Factoring, Forfaiting and other trade financing services at competitive cost.

To get more insights into these developments, FEDAI has decided “eMarketplace For Facilitating Trade Financing” as topic of discussion scheduled on 11 September @ 4.00 pm. We have invited Sh Ketan Giakwad, MD & CEO, RXIL to share with us his future plans and vision for how this new initiative is going to help India achieve its goal by opening new channels of financing for cross border trade.
